Audrey is an award-winning director, specialising in narrative, theatre and video games and is committed to creating games that are vivid, rigorous, imaginatively ambitious and emotionally truthful.

Extensively involved in new writing, inspired by dramaturgical development, how a script evolves, and what makes a great project work and why, she was selected as a Finalist Best Director for the Off-West End Awards, an Old Vic 12 Director, and as a recipient of a Michael Grandage Company Futures Bursary. She was also nominated for the prestigious Arts Foundation Award.

Audrey was Associate Director with the original company on the highly acclaimed Stranger Things: The First Shadow in the West End, and has directed productions at the National Theatre, Royal Court, Young Vic, Almeida and Hampstead Theatre.

Recent game credits include: Absolum (Dotemu), Crimson Desert (Pearl Abyss), Banishers: Ghosts of New Eden (Don't Nod), Phasmophobia (Kinetic Games), Mouse: P.I. For Hire (Fumi Games), Arknights: Endfield (Hypergryph) and Tom Clancy's The Division 2 (Ubisoft).
